*Jim Diers

Former Director of Seattle's Department of Neighbourhoods, professor of public policy at the University of Washington, a leader in community development and an inspiration to neighbours around the world.

Jim speaks with passion about creating vibrant neighbourhoods.

"The Community is at its best when many networks support one another and come together as equals for their common good...The best way to develop a safe and healthy community is to open the door to neighbours, build strong community organizations and forge alliances that link them" – Jim Diers
